

THE RIPPER

Words and Music by Patrick Scheibe and Fabian Scheibe

The night is cold the house is dark
The ripper comes to you to talk
You feel the stillness in the air
There's blood all over in your hair

The candles burn to light your way
You run and run, don't stay to pray
The candles burn to light a way
Come on and run don't stay

Let me lead you far away
Let me light your night to day
I'll be your hero you're my dream
You will scream you will scream

You leave the street and go down hill
But can you hide yourself from kill
That's so fucked up your feets are burning
Is that the reason for the turning?

The candles burn to light your way
You run and run, don't stay to pray
The candles burn to light a way
Come on and run don't stay

Let me lead you far away
Let me light your night to day
I'll be your hero you're my dream
You will scream you will scream
